Armed with a copy of "Sex for Dummies," Alice and Henry check themselves into a trendy spa hotel with a mission: to jump-start their 25-year marriage. Can they embrace all the wild suggestions Alice keeps pulling from her handy-dandy marriage-saving manual? Is Henry prepared to see his fifty-plus wife, and mother of his children, dressed in black leather?

Mercy, a Kenyan independence activist, is asked to cook for the visiting princess Elizabeth, who has a few surprises of her own. Sixty years later, the making of a TV series about the royal family causes more than a few culture clashes for a young Kenyan-Canadian production intern. A fresh, funny, and smart new play about colonialism, monarchy, and who is serving whom.

Written by Marcia Johnson. Directed by Leah-Simone Bowen.

It's 1955, and Peggy Ann Douglas is hitching her wagon to the pageant circuit in the hope it'll steer her from her farm to the bright lights of a Hollywood movie set. A play packed with baton twirling, big laughs, and some fantastic fiddle playing. This is a play for anyone who knows what it's like to dream big and hustle to make it happen.

Written by Melody A. Johnson. Musical arrangements & original score by Alison Porter. Directed by Brett Christopher.
